

RAINIERS FOUR GAMES UP ON PACK, DESPITE DEFEAT

THE TIMER... ... Has the Last Word

Talk to a sailor about tomorrow's Times Navy Crew Race on Lake Washington and, as has been the case for eighteen previous years, you start an argument.

They're instantly proud of their crews, for nothing

...reels closer to the Navy's heart than ten stout gobs on the business end of ten swinging oars... provided they're from the right boat.

"Idaho!" snapped Henry Moeller of Greensburg, Indiana, seaman first-class, on guess which battleship, "She'll take the West Virginia, and the Tennessee, and all the rest."

Charles Madden, Amherst, Mass., also of the Idaho—"That's a tough crew we've got. It took second in the Olympic Club race in San Francisco. It didn't race in Tacoma, but it practiced. It's ready, now."

Grace Milette—(mighty pretty)—"I don't know anything about the Navy boat races, but I think the California ought to win it."

Interrogator—"Why?"

Miss Milette—"Why... well, I just think the California ought to win it."

Patricia Schimpf (also mighty pretty)—"So do I. California's a great state."

Ernie Hahn—(he's no sailor, but he knows 'em—"I'll string with the Tennessee. Danny Edwards works for me, and he used to cox Tennessee crews in Times crew races. He says they've got a good crew."

And here's what some of the sailors say:

Raymond Budsberg, Iola, Wis.—"The West Virginia will win. But maybe I shouldn't be saying that. I'm from the New Mexico."

George Wallace, St. Louis, Mo.—"I'll take the Nevada, and I'm from the New Mex, too."

Russell Ramsey, St. Louis—"The Idaho could beat anything, including the Minneapolis. Me, I'm from the Idaho."

V. Ranza, Hudson, N. Y.—"Our boat, the California, will be in the first three, anyway."

N. T. Hardy, Victoria, Va.—"Sure, we'll win. Any crew with the name California is the best."

Bob Whitehead, New Haven, Conn.—"I'm from the Arizona, but I think the West Virginia'll take it."

Carl Case, New Haven, Conn. (another Arizona boy)—"The West Virginia will win by a mile."

E. C. Irwin, New York—"I'm from the Cal—and it won't even be a race."

Bob Taylor, Chicago—"Want to know who'll win? Well, it's this way. I'm cox on the Arizona."

W. A. Bush, St. Louis—"The Cal or the West Virginia will win. And the Idaho is a dark horse." (His liberty card said he was off the Idaho.)

J. A. Holt, Berea, Ky.—"The California has it in the bag. The Minneapolis? Have they a crew?"

BARRETT FAILS TO WIN NO. 100; IS BEATEN, 3-2

SACRAMENTO, Thursday, July 27.—Seattle's Rainiers, whose base-running has won them many a Pacific Coast League baseball game this year, were handed a dose of their own medicine last night by the Sacramento Solons, who beat the Rainiers, 3-2.

Luckily for Seattle, the second-place Los Angeles team also was beaten, so the Rainiers today still have their four-game league lead. The Solons beat Kewpie Dick Barrett after the pudgy Dick had pitched one of his best games, when Art Garibaldi walked in the ninth, reached second on a sacrifice by Larry Barton, and scored on an infield grounder involving some legwork on the base-paths that had Skipper Jack Leivelt of the Rainiers and his players waiting all over the dressing room.

The Solons scored first, Garibaldi doubling in the second frame and scoring on Barton's single. Seattle tied it up with a run in the fifth on hits by Buddy Hancin and Joe Coscarart, but the Sacs took the lead again in the fourth. Art Hunt hit his twelfth homer of the season in the ninth tie it at 2-1. Then came the last hit of the frame—Barrett lost the control which had been his since last night and walked Garibaldi and Joe Grengo, with Barton's sacrifice coming in between.

Benny Borgmann, the Sacs' boss and second baseman, hit a grounder to deep short. Garibaldi, who is no small on the base-paths, started around for home. Allen Strange, Rainiers' shortstop, threw to Hancin to catch Garibaldi in a pickle. The Sac third baseman, however, feinted toward third to make Hancin throw to Gyselman, then sprang past Hancin before Gyselman could make the return throw.

Barrett was trying for his eighteenth win of the year and his hundredth since joining Seattle. He'll probably try again in one of the two Sunday games. Hal Turpin, whose "nothin' ball" has a little more nothin' under the lights than in the sunshine, will probably take the mound for Seattle tonight against Bill Schmidt or John Hubbell of the Solons.

CONGDON'S 70 BEATS WOOD IN STATE OPEN PLAYOFF

HUTCH GETS BACK UP IN THE WORLD

IN WASHINGTON YESTERDAY Fred Hutchison, expensive young hurler sold by Seattle last week, sat on the steps of the Capitol with Senator Lewis B. Schwellenbach of Washington State and discussed (1) baseball, (2) Vice President Garner, whom Hutch had just met, and (3) what Hutch thought of regaining his position with the Tigers. Hutch performed creditably in his first return to the majors, though losing to Washington, 5 to 3.—A. P. wirephoto.

MOLINARI WINS PUBLINKS DUEL

BALTIMORE, Thursday, July 27.—Big Jim Molinari of San Francisco, shooting sub-par golf all the way, and Philip Gordon of Oakland, Calif., led the fast-shrinking field into the quarterfinal round of the eighteenth annual public links championship today.

Molinari whipped John Kisko of Dayton, Ohio, 6 and 4. Gordon knocked off Ken Peterson of Dayton, 5 and 4.

Roy Dolce of Denver advanced with a 6-and-3 triumph over William McCay of Long Beach, Calif.

Three of the four boys who tied for the medal had bowed out of the tournament today, and the only one remaining was Art Armstrong, the Hawaiian shipping clerk.

Gerry Bert, Jr., of Seattle, one of the co-medalists, was defeated yesterday afternoon by Mike Cesone of Montclair, N. J., after young Bert had advanced to the second round by defeating Bob Clark of St. Paul, 5 and 4.

Barb Zaro of Seattle, who won 5 and 4 in the morning from Leo Lehn, Worcester, Mass., was defeated by Andy Sewedko, 3 and 2.

Armstrong moved along impressively with a 5-and-4 defeat of Steve Doctor of Buffalo, N. Y.

Louis Orr of Vancouver, Wash., 5 and 4, was runner-up to Al Leach at Cleveland last year, eliminated by George Bradley, 54-year-old Philadelphia retired business man, 2 and 1.

Tacoman Better Par By Three Strokes To Capture Links Title

(For state amateur golf scores see Page 26)
By WILLIAM F. STEEDMAN

Charley Congdon is able today to sign himself open golf champion of Washington State as well as professional champion of the Pacific Northwest. The Tacoma pro added the open title to his collection yesterday afternoon when he came back off a shaky start to cut three strokes from par at the Seattle Golf Club with a 70 and finish three shots ahead of Freddy Wood of Vancouver, B. C., in an eighteen-hole play-off for the championship.

They had tied over the regular seventy-two-hole route with totals of 285. Congdon's winning margin yesterday was furnished chiefly by his tremendous woods off the tee and the steadiness of his putter.

Some of his drives—at the sixth and fourteenth holes in particular—were well out past 300 yards. And not one of them was in trouble.

In the putting department he sank four at distances ranging from eight to fifteen feet.

In one department Wood had the edge. The Canadian's irons to the green, both at long and at short range, were consistently inside Congdon's.

Charley looked like no champion at the first hole, where he showed his second shot into a trap, came out weakly and took a 6, losing two strokes at the outset to par and to Wood. But he came right back with birdies at the next two holes to be all even with par and a stroke ahead of Wood, who had overpitched the second green.

Wood slipped another stroke behind when he pulled his drive to a trap at the 205-yard fifth.

He got one back at the seventh when Congdon's iron second was on the beach, but Charley tanked an 8-footer for a birdie at the eighth and then went four shots to the good when he birdied the long sixth while Wood was hacking around for a 6.

Congdon hit the turn in 34, one under par. Wood was out in 38, three over.

Wood sank a good putt for a birdie at the tenth to cut his arrears to three strokes, but from there on in, despite brilliant golf, he was unable to get closer.

Congdon sank a tough putt to match Wood's birdie at the thirteenth.

At the sixteenth, the lake hole, Freddy drove into the water, but boomed a wood home for his third and tacked a 4-yard putt for a half in birdie 45.

Congdon pulled an iron second wide of the green at the seventeenth, but pitched back brilliantly for a single putt and another half. Both parred the home hole, and that was that.

GLASERS LOSE IN LAST FRAME

SILVERTON, Or., Thursday, July 27.—(AP)—Silvertown's Red Sox came from behind in the ninth inning last night to defeat the Seattle Glasers, 4 to 3, in the first of a series between the Oregon and Washington semipro baseball champions for the right to enter the national tournament at Omaha.

The Glasers' all three runs in the seventh on three hits and two errors. Silvertown scored in the first and the eighth and added the winning runs on a four-hit blast in the finale.
