Front-Running Barr Wins

By PHIL TAYLOR P-I Sports Writer TUMWATER — Like good mudder, Dave Barr went wire-to-wire. The Canadian, sloshing through another day of abominable weather at Tumwater Valley, put to gether his third straight sub-par round to capture the Washington State Open by three shots. When the players fi-nally had divested them-selves of rain suits and umbrellas, Barr showed a 54-hole total of 209 after rounds of 69-70-70. That was seven under for the distance and three shots in front of former champion Mike Davis of Portland. Davis, with rounds of 72-72-68—212, was, in turn, just a pop ahead of detending champion Chuck Milne, also of Portland (70-73-70).

Barr, a 25-year-old assistant pro at Fraser View. in Vancouver, B.C. was the only player in the field to break par all three days as he shared or held the lead all the way. Yesterday, despite back-to-back bogeys Barr's tournament and through the the rain, wind and chill that continually dogged the players. The bogeys were canceled by five birdies.

an born and resides

there at present, Barr is University.

"I played a lot of golf against guys like Ben Crenshaw, Tom Kite. Danny Edwards and Mark Hayes," Barr said. "And I was fifth in the NCAA tourney in If there was a key to his play this week it would be the ninth hole where he was four under par with a pair of birdies and an eagle. Davis. who aced the 17th hole a few years ago en route to winning this title at Meridian Valley, got a great jump yesterday with another hole-in-one on 178-yard second where his five-iron shot went directly into the cup. He finished with a four-under 68 but had just a bit too much ground to make up.

Davis' 68 was matched by Randy Puetz the young pro from Tyee, and Doug Campbell of Auburn jumped over a few bodies with a 69. But mostly it was the young man will be going back over the bor-backside, he held up der with a nice payoff nicely to outdistance Daof $2,000. vis and Milne through HOW THEY FINISHED
